

I don't believe that the FCC should implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protection. It is so nice to not be bothered by Telemarketers. My husband works nights so he's home during the day. In the past we actually had to shut off the ringer on our phone because we got so many calls from telemarketers. We don't have to do that anymore.